

How do I get to the Historical Study Collection?

Shown below is the middle part of the UT Campus map:

The historical study collection is located in the Carré building (15) on floor 5. It is located approximately above the side entrance marked 15a. The entrance opens during office hours by pressing the panel on the pole.

Inside the hall (on floor 1) there is an elevator that leads directly to the study collection on floor 5.

Another route is via the main entrance 13 of the Waaier / Hall-B. Walk straight up to floor 2, follow in the same direction the diagonal hallway until it reaches the elevator. Here you are again at the elevator above 15a and you go to floor 5.

Building 11 is the Zilverling, which can be reached via the O&O square outside via a corridor between 13 and 11.

Parking is available at P2, P3 or P4. P4 is closest to the side entrance of Carré.
